DATA-DRIVEN MARKETING

It is widely accepted amongst marketers that making decisions backed by data can help improve marketing performance.

But how are marketers updating their data-driven strategies to navigate a changing landscape?

To help answer this question, Ascend2 and our Research Partners fielded the Data-Driven Marketing survey. We thank the 485 marketers who responded to this survey between September 20, 2021 and September 28, 2021.

This Survey Summary Report, titled Data-Driven Marketing, represents the opinions of all the market segments responding to the survey. Specific market segments from the survey are reported on separately and exclusively by our participating Research Partners.

Half (50%) of marketing professionals surveyed find that collecting quality data is the greatest challenge to executing a data-driven marketing strategy. Identifying the right solutions to execute a strategy is also a top challenge for one-third (33%) of those surveyed. Removing data silos is the least reported challenge amongst marketers who might be gaining better access to solutions that help centralize data.
STRATEGIC SUCCESS

Are marketers experiencing success from their data-driven marketing strategy? Close to one-third (29%) of marketers say yes, their strategies are very successful, or best-in-class, compared to the competition. There is still room for improvement with a 62% majority of those surveyed reporting just some success and another 9% naming their strategy unsuccessful at achieving strategic goals set for it.

WHICH BEST DESCRIBES THE SUCCESS OF YOUR (OR YOUR TYPICAL CLIENT’S) DATA-DRIVEN MARKETING STRATEGY?

- Very successful (best-in-class): 29%
- Somewhat successful: 62%
- Unsuccessful: 9%
MOST USEFUL APPLICATIONS

Data can be applied to a strategy throughout the marketing funnel and across a wide variety of marketing channels. While personalization is the most reported area for data-driven marketing use, marketers also say that email, content, and product or services development are also areas where they are seeing the most impact according to 38%, 36%, and 36% of those surveyed, respectively.

IN WHICH AREAS IS DATA-DRIVEN MARKETING CURRENTLY MOST USEFUL?

- Personalization: 42%
- Email Marketing: 38%
- Content Marketing Strategy: 36%
- Product / Services Development: 36%
- Paid Advertising: 30%
- Campaign Planning: 25%
- Customer Journey Mapping: 22%
- Attribution: 11%
IMPACTS ON DATA-DRIVEN MARKETING

The marketing landscape is fast evolving and impacting the way that marketers execute their data-driven strategies. Nearly half (48%) of marketing professionals report that changing consumer behaviors has had the most impact on their data-driven marketing in the past year. Over one-quarter (27%) of those surveyed say that changes surrounding data and privacy regulations have also impacted their strategy.
